The story of Prince Hendrik's Garage

Prince Hendrik bought his first car in 1908. There was no room for cars in the stables that he and his wife, Queen Wilhelmina, had built. Wilhelmina regarded cars as a ridiculous novelty. But just a few years later the royal couple were using the car more often than the coach for their daily drive. Hendrik eventually got what he wanted: a new garage with room for eight cars. It now houses the 'prins Hendrik garage' grand café.
